

SCORE COUNTY BOARD AND EQUITY NEWS AT COUNTY UNION MEET

SUPERVISORS DENOUNCED FOR FAILING TO RETRACT ANTI- LA FOLLETTE RES- OLUTION.

FEELING IS BITTER

Expected Clash Even More Stormy
Than Was Anticipated—State
Union Scored for Its Actions—All Building
Deferred.

The expected fight between the two factions of the American Society of Equity developed at the quarterly meeting of the Outagamie County Union at the court house Wednesday afternoon and was even more stormy than was anticipated. It was precipitated by two resolutions, one introduced by C. B. Ballard condemning the members of the county board for voting against a resolution to strike from the records of the county board a resolution denouncing the senior senator of Wisconsin as being disloyal, un-American and a traitor to his country, and the other condemning the president of the American Society of Equity and other members of the state board for the course it pursued in opposing the election of La Follette delegates. The present policy of the Equity News in representing only one side or one faction was also opposed. The latter resolution was introduced by John McKeever and both were adopted.

The first resolution read:

"Whereas, on the 16th day of April, A. D. 1920, a resolution was introduced at the special session of the Outagamie county board by Supervisor C. B. Ballard, and

"Whereas, said resolution provided that a former resolution passed at a previous session of said board, which denounced the senior senator of Wisconsin as being disloyal, un-American and a traitor to his country, and

"Whereas, this resolution provided that the former resolution be expunged and stricken from the record, and

La Follette Endorsed.

"Whereas, the following members of the county board voted for this resolution, Ballard, Fuerst, Greeley, Brown, Krueger, Rohm, Sievert, Schwammer, Spoehr, Tracy and Wendt, and the following voted against the resolution, A. P. Anderson, Hans Anderson, Bayer, Ballhorn, Bottrell, Doerfler, J. R. Diederich, Faust, Fiedler, Gloudehans, Heintz, Hodgins, Kessler, Liesch, Mack, McCormick, McCone, Sawall, Reichel, D. J. Ryan, Schaefer, Schultz, Silverwood, Thomas and Werner, and

"Whereas, the supervisors who voted against said resolution do not represent the people of Outagamie county and the state of Wisconsin, as registered at the polls on April 6, 1920, now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we, the delegates of the County Union, American Society of Equity, in meeting assembled this 28th day of April, A. D. 1920, condemn the action of the members of the board who voted against said resolution, and be it further

"Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be ordered published in the Equity News and the local county papers."

The other resolution read:

Wanted Both Sides Printed.

"Whereas, at the recent primary election a progressive republican platform representing the principles of true Americanism was submitted to the voters of this state together with a list of candidates known as La Follette progressive republican, and

"Whereas, the electors of the state by an overwhelming majority have upheld the standard of public rights and human justice as represented by our great statesman and leader, Robert M. La Follette, and

"Whereas, the state president of the American Society of Equity, J. N. Tittmore, and other members of the state board of the American Society of Equity have through the Equity News and in other ways opposed the election of the La Follette delegates, now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that we, the Outagamie County Union, American Society of Equity, in meeting assembled, condemn such action by said board, and, be it further

"Resolved, that we demand that the personal letters written and signed by Mr. Tittmore and others abusing certain members of our society, be discontinued, and be it further

"Resolved, that we are opposed to the present policy of the Equity News as representing only one side or one faction. We believe that both sides have the same right to be heard and represented, and be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be published in the Equity News and the local county papers."

Rohm Put in Objection

The resolutions were read by Henry Thiel, chairman of the committee on resolutions and before he had proceeded very far with the first one Otto F. Rohm, president of the Outagamie County Union and a member of the state board of the American Society of Equity, who was presiding, objected to the further reading of the resolution and inquired if the members wanted to bring the county

AVER TRICKERY IN JERSEY PRIMARY ROBBED JOHNSON

GENERAL WOOD'S SLIGHT LEAD IN NEW JERSEY IS CHARGED TO TREACHERY AT THE POLLS

OHIO CONTEST IS CLOSE

Official Figures Necessary To Determine Election of One Delegate
In Ohio Primary—Harding Gets Endorsement

New York.—A conference of Johnson managers will be held today to determine whether a recount of New Jersey republican primary will be asked as the result of charges by supporters of Senator Hiram Johnson in that state that he was "robbed" in several counties.

With 80 of the 2,005 districts missing today, Major General Leonard Wood was leading by 602.

The charges were voiced by William P. Verdon, republican leader in Hoboken, who said today that if Johnson had not been "robbed," he would have carried the state "by ten thousand to fifteen thousand."

He was expected to present a formal report to the Johnson managers here, who admitted they were personally ignorant of the basis for the charges.

Verdon called attention to the fact that the vote in several districts was still missing early today "whereas the law provides the returns shall be submitted to the county clerk 'forthwith.'"

Reports Are Delayed

"It is very significant that belated reports from outlying districts, which should have been the first to complete their count, were turned in at times when Johnson threatens Wood's apparent lead."

The following statement was issued from Wood headquarters here:

"Every primary that Johnson loses is crooked; every one he wins is on the level. We have every reason to believe the vote in New Jersey was conducted fairly for both candidates. We have nothing to fear from a recount, if one is demanded."

The recount was decided upon, according to the announcement "following reports by many politicians and residents of New Jersey that Johnson had been counted out."

Anous McSweeney, Johnson's eastern campaign manager, who announced the decision of the conference, said a recount would be demanded in Camden, Morris, Essex and Gloucester counties.

Attorneys will be employed to take charge of Johnson's interests, McSweeney said.

Delegates Divided.

New York.—Major General Wood was leading by 612 votes in returns from New Jersey's primary today. Senator Hiram Johnson, today, 84 precincts still missing. The vote was: Wood, 51,321; Johnson, 50,709.

On the basis of these figures, gathered at candidates' headquarters here, Wood was practically certain of twelve district delegates and Johnson ten. Two were still in doubt.

The vote on candidates for delegate-at-large follows:

Senator Frelinghuysen, 60,196; Senator Edge, 59,193; Governor E. C. Stokes, 52,446; W. N. Runyon, 45,495; M. L. Ballard, 42,804; Thomas R. Layden, 42,434; J. W. Griggs, 41,558; T. L. Raymond, 42,881.

Frelinghuysen and Edge will vote at the national convention for the candidate who receives the preference vote, they stated. Stokes and Runyon were pledged to General Wood.

Need Official Figures.

Columbus, O.—Official figures will be necessary to determine whether William H. Boyd, General Wood's supporter, defeated Harry M. Daugherty, Harding candidate, in Ohio's preferential primary Tuesday, the secretary of state declared today.

Returns today indicated other Harding "big four" candidates—Myron T. Herrick, Mayor Harry Galvin, of Cincinnati, and former Governor Frank B. Willis, pulled through.

Practically complete unofficial returns today in the Boyd-Daugherty race gave Wood's candidate 104,898 and Daugherty 103,084. These returns gave Harding nearly a 14,000 plurality over Major General Wood.

The vote stood:

Harding 124,526; Wood, 109,390.

The bulk of the 30,000 written in votes go to Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, and Herbert Hoover.

Wood captured eight of the district delegates and Harding 36, according to today's returns.

Arkansas Uninstructed.

Little Rock, Ark.—Arkansas' delegation to the convention at Chicago will go uninstructed, the republican state convention here decided.

Indications today were that a majority of them favor Governor Frank O. Lowden.

The state convention also nominated a state republican ticket. Delegates to the convention charged the democratic administration with extravagance and exorbitant taxation.

2,000 AT FUNERAL OF
EIGHT MURDER VICTIMS

Turtle Lake, N. D.—All was quiet at the Jacob Wolf farm today, scene of a quadruple murder a week ago. The eight victims were buried late Wednesday. More than two thousand persons witnessed the funeral services, held in the farm yard because of the crowds.

Authorities admitted today they were at sea in the attempt to expose the murderers. While two neighbors have been under suspicion, authorities have been unable to fasten tangible evidence upon them. An effort to trace the sale of a shotgun with which the murders were committed, has failed thus far.

Labor Leader Hissed As He Delivers Talk

Vice President of American Federation of Labor Unable to Con- tinue Attack on Kansas Court of In- dustrial

Atlantic City.—Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, was forced to discontinue his speech before the United States Chamber of Commerce convention here today because of the hissing and cries of the delegates.

Woll was delivering an attack on the Kansas compulsory arbitration court when cries of "no-no" and "we want Governor Allen" forced him to sit down.

Governor Allen, father of the Kansas court law, sat on the same platform from which Woll made his address.

Prolonged applause for the governor interrupted Woll when he began his attack on the Kansas state executive. Woll began by calling the new law "amusing."

He claimed that it took away the right of the workmen to strike by giving the court power to put him in jail if he conspired with his fellow workmen against the treatment of capital.

"This is despotism and contrary to the primary rules of government," Woll said.

"The compulsory labor court brings to mind the same theory on which I. W. W. and bolshevism are based."

It was at this point that the hissing began and Woll could not make himself heard. He sat down.

BIG INCREASE IN PAPER PRODUCTION PROMISED IN 1921

MISUNDERSTANDING IS BLAMED FOR HOSTILITY BETWEEN PUBLISHERS AND PA-
PERMILL MEN

Washington.—Print paper production will be increased by 300,000 tons next year, Paul Patterson, Baltimore Sun, told the senate print paper investigating committee today.

"It is very clear that the shortage now existing is due to increase of consumption beyond capacity of the mills," he said.

"I think the manufacturers are showing moderation in the prices charged. A few small wild-cat manufacturers are selling in the spot market and that is where the extremely high prices are being charged. It was necessary for manufacturers to increase their prices, however. The criticism from publishers arose through misunderstanding on both sides and the manufacturers not taking the publishers into their confidence when they began to raise prices three years ago. As a result publishers started agitation for government control and manufacturers did not increase their mill capacity any more. But I think everyone understands the situation now and new mills are being built. By next year mill capacity will be increased by 300,000 tons."

If publishers continue present universal efforts to reduce consumption, there should be a marked effect by fall, he said.

Publishers are seriously considering raising prices to three cents a copy in many cities, he explained.

"The Baltimore Sun, however, does not feel it is a proper policy because the readers are not to blame and it is opposed to any measures curtailing their influence by reducing their circulation," Patterson said.

"The reduction in circulation would only be temporary, anyway. Two cents does not cover the cost of the paper and three cents would not."

"The only effective way to curtail consumption is to reduce advertising space by charging higher rates and thereby reducing the size of advertisements. An arbitrary reduction in advertising space would be almost impossible to execute."

PROFITEERS FELT LONG ARM OF LAW

PALMER TELLS HOUSE PROBERS THAT MANY PROF-ITEERS HAVE BEEN PUNISHED

Washington, D. C.—"Hundreds and hundreds" of profiteers have been prosecuted by the department of justice, since congress amended the Lever act last fall, Attorney General Palmer told the house judiciary committee during its investigation on the sugar situation today.

Palmer declared the law against profiteering has been vigorously enforced.

The specific matter under investigation by the committee is the alleged action of Palmer in allowing the Louisiana sugar growers to charge 17 and 18 cent a pound for their crops.

Palmer charged the investigation was mainly for partisan purposes.

"For anyone to say that my action in allowing Louisiana sugar growers to charge certain prices for their crops was unlawful, shows a lamentable, sorry ignorance of the law," Palmer said.

"The law gives the attorney general discretionary powers to decide who shall be prosecuted and that is all he did in Louisiana."

RENT PROFITEERS SCORED BY STATE PROBE COMMITTEE

SPECIAL INVESTIGATORS AVER RENTS HAVE BEEN IN- CREASED OUT OF REA- SONABLE BOUNDS

REMEDIAL LAWS URGED

Special Session of the Legislature to Provide Relief for Tenants Is Recommended — Many Families Are Without Homes

Milwaukee, Wis.—Profiteering in Milwaukee rents is charged and a cure recommended by the state investigating committee, in a report filed today with Governor E. L. Phillips.

Landlords who took advantage of the shortage of homes to make exorbitant rents and lease speculators responsible for soaring rates, are denounced.

The committee urges that the state step in to determine what shall be considered a fair return on real estate and building investments. It asks that brokers and scalpers be eliminated.

The investigators report to the governor that the situation seriously affects home conditions and will embarrass, not only Milwaukeeans but people of the state.

Want Special Sessions.

A special session of the legislature is strongly urged by enactment of remedial laws. Besides recommending state regulation of profits, the committee recommended two plans to encourage home building and urged broader powers for civil courts in eviction cases.

One plan to boom home building carries the suggestion that home-steads be exempted from taxation, up to the value of $5,000. It is also suggested that insurance companies be permitted to invest large sums of money for purchase of land and building of homes and that they be permitted to issue a home savings policy.

High lights in the report are as follows:

"1.—The rent situation is due to shortage of homes.

"2.—Large numbers of owners and leaseholders of property have taken advantage of the situation to increase rents.

"3.—Some rents were advanced beyond amount necessary to make a fair or even liberal return on investments, some as high as 100 per cent over May 1, 1919.

"4.—The most pernicious evil and the least justifiable is leasing of apartments by certain persons and re-leasing them at greatly increased prices.

"5.—Cost of upkeep given to justify high rates in some instances despite the fact that no money has been expended on improvements.

"6.—Many ordered to vacate homes unable to find new places to move to."

The report makes no attempt to fix a fair net return on investments in building and improvements, but ten per cent is suggested as a fair maximum. It is recommended that the legislature fix the per centage based on investment in land and buildings.

The committee also submitted a proposed bill to eliminate the abuses reported to have been found by the investigators. The bill provides that in any action of unlawful detainer, where a judgment has been entered in favor of the plaintiff, the court may stay restitution for a period not exceeding nine months and may also determine the reasonable value of the use of the premises and may order the defendant to pay for such use in such manner as may be just and equitable.

FIVE KILLED AND 11 HURT IN TRAIN WRECK

TWO NORTHWESTERN TRAINS
CRASH THROUGH MIS-INTERPRETATION OF ORDERS

Tracy, Minn.—Five men were killed and eleven men and one woman injured when an eastbound Northwestern passenger train crashed into a west-bound train twenty miles east of here at daybreak.

All of those killed were on the east-bound train. The west-bound train had come to a full stop when the east-bound train crashed into it. Witnesses estimated the eastbound train was traveling only about 15 miles an hour.

The trains should have met at Sanborn. The west-bound crew is said to have misinterpreted orders.

Both engines and four cars were wrecked. One empty baggage car burned after the crash.

All of the twelve injured were brought here on a relief train which reached the scene of the wreck 50 minutes after the crash. The train was made up here and carried four doctors and several nurses. It also brought all the eastbound passengers here and they were re-routed to St. Paul.

REPORTER'S BRIDE GETS $1,000,000 IN GIFTS

New York.—The richest reporter in the world will marry one of the prettiest girls in New York at the biggest wedding of the season here late today.

The principals are Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., 21, eldest grandson of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt, and Miss Rachel Littleton, 20, sister of Martin Littleton, prominent attorney.

Five thousand invitations have been issued for the ceremony in St. Thomas church. Seven hundred guests are expected at the reception in the Vanderbilt home on Fifth avenue.

The bride will receive gifts valued at more than $1,000,000. Among them will be a diamond tiara, presented by General and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, parents of the groom, which is said to be worth $200,000.

U. S. READY TO COPE WITH MAY DAY REVOLTS

Washington.—The government is ready to cope with whatever revolutionary demonstration may be attempted Saturday, May 1, international labor day.

Justice department agents in all parts of the United States have received their instructions, it was learned today.

There have been many rumors—of bombs in the mails, general strikes and other manifestations. Known "red" leaders are under surveillance and the various headquarters of the bolsheviks are practically under guard and will remain so until after May 1.

Because government moves are held secret it is not possible to confirm a report that violent radicals from whom trouble is feared, are to be quietly jailed on the eve of May Day and detained until the time fixed for the demonstration has passed.

BIG DEMAND FOR USED AUTOS IS REPORTED

Chicago.—Second hand autos are in greater demand than ever, according to Chicago auto dealers, who opened their annual show of used cars here today.

Two reasons were given by the auto men for the desire for used cars: The reign of prosperity that swept the country during the war making it possible for more people to purchase autos and the inability of auto manufacturers to meet the demands for new machines for immediate delivery.

Heads of various Chicago auto distributing firms said that the request for cars exceeded the number available.

URGES CITY TO MAKE HASTE SLOWLY IN THE HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

W. O. THIEDE BELIEVES PROBLEM SHOULD BE CONSIDERED ACTION IS

FOSE WANTS ADDITION

Fifth Ward Alderman Fears Cost of
New Building Would Be Too High—Wants People To Give Expression to Their Views

Two important questions are surging in the minds of the men who are wrestling with the high school problem. Some argue that no new building should be erected with conditions so far from normal. Others believe that the school future of Appleton should be uppermost and that any narrow view taken now will be regretted in the future.

W. O. Thiede, member of the Board of Education from the First district, believes that the actual conditions surrounding the purchase of the Lawrence street site should be looked into more thoroughly. No hasty decision need be made about a solution of the school problem because no building of any kind could be erected for use next year. He holds firmly to the opinion that Appleton's future interests should be the first consideration.

Alderman Charles Fose shares the view of Mr. Thiede that a junior high school is the coming thing for Appleton but is in favor of building an addition to the high school to take care of the congestion. Any other move should be submitted to a vote of the people, he said.

McAnn New in Council

Alderman J. T. McAnn of the Second ward, was asked for his convictions but stated that he had not given the matter enough study to arrive at any conclusions. He added that because of his recent election as alderman he has not been in close enough touch with the problem to know what its solution should be. He had no children in school nor any relatives attending high school and therefore had never come in contact with the matter. The comments on both sides are being watched by Mr. McAnn but he is asked to be excused from talking for publication because of being temporarily unable to speak with authority.

"I favor a new building on a separate lot," said Mr. Thiede. "An addition to the high school would take care of our present needs, but we should look to the future as well. We will some day have a junior high school and this should be taken into consideration."

Council Made Mistake

The high school grounds are not large enough, Mr. Thiede thinks, for building additions. Public buildings should be planned with the "city beautiful" idea in mind. Placing any new building on the high school lot would make the block appear more like a factory site. There is also the matter of noise. If possible the school should be moved away from the railroad and street car lines.

Acquisition of the Lawrence street property and erecting one unit there now according to the plan of the Board of Education is what Mr. Thiede urges. What blocked this move earlier was the fact that the assessed valuation of the property was $37,000, for that it could not be purchased for even $50,000. But here is where he believes a mistake has been made. Even if the site cost as high as $30,000, there is a liberal salvage that the council seems to have left out of consideration entirely. All the houses represent a considerable sum, some of them being practically new, and if moved to lots in other wards could be rented or sold at handsome figures. The material in the Smith livery barn could also be salvaged. About $25,000 could be gleaned in this way, which would greatly reduce the actual net cost of acquiring this most desirable piece of property for the city. It has so many advantages that he believes it a mistake to fail to acquire it. It is much nearer the fourth ward than the present high school also, which meets the argument of those who wanted a school nearer that locality.

Must Build Barracks

Another thing pointed out by Mr. Thiede is the fact that barracks must be built for use next winter, no matter which way the problem of building is solved. Neither an addition nor a new building could be put up in time for use during the coming school year and temporary relief must therefore be sought for the large enrollment that is expected. This will cause a small loss to the city, but here again the question of salvage ought to be considered. It has been said that from $5,000 to $10,000 will be lost when the present portable building is razed. Most of the money is invested in the equipment all of which will be used in some other building. There should be no greater amount lost than $1,000. The same would apply to additional frame buildings, which can be salvaged easily in these times of high cost of materials.

Make Haste Slowly

Because of the fact that temporary relief must be provided anyway, Mr. Thiede believes that enough time can be taken to arrive at the right conclusion in the school matter. The city could not make the mistake of providing for present needs only.

LABOR PARTY PLANS STATE CAMPAIGNS

CONVENTION OF NEW PARTY IS TO BE HELD IN CHICAGO IN JULY TO SELECT CANDIDATES

Chicago.—The labor party's convention will be held here July 11, 12 and 13, party headquarters announced here today. A candidate for president and vice-president will be selected at the convention and plans will be laid for inaugurating campaigns in every state for state offices. From four to five thousand delegates are expected to attend the convention. Plans for the convention have been perfected. Max S. Hayes, of Cleveland, will be temporary chairman of the convention.

"We have a number of men in view for the presidential candidacy but are not yet in a position to give out their names," said Frank J. Esper, secretary of the party.

"We will have candidates in at least half of all the congressional districts for this fall and expect to have candidates for the offices of governor and U. S. senator in most states. We will make an extensive campaign for control of state legislatures."

Government ownership of public utilities and natural resources is advocated. The Plumb Plan League was endorsed by the committee on arrangements yesterday.

FUTURE OF PAPER MAKING DESCRIBED BY APPLETON MAN

JOHN STEVENS TELLS EASTERN PAPERMILL MEN THAT
WOOD PULP ERA IS RAP-IDLY PASSING

Paper making in the future was discussed for the benefit of eastern papermill men by an Appleton young man, John Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens, Sr., at a meeting under the auspices of the Boston Club of Printing House Craftsmen in Boston, according to an article appearing in the Boston Transcript of April 23, a copy of which has been received here.

Mr. Stevens is a graduate of Appleton high school and from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is regarded as a specialist in paper-making and is connected with Arthur D. Little, Inc., engineering chemists. Mr. Stevens delivered his address at the Little experimental plant.

The Boston Transcript article follows:

About 100 men, under the auspices of the Boston Club of Printing House Craftsmen, heard some enlightening remarks by an expert last night on the passing of the era of wood in the manufacture of paper and experiments which are being made upon substitutes. The monthly meeting of the club took the form of a dinner at the Walker Memorial and a lecture by Mr. Stevens, of Arthur D. Little, Inc., engineering chemists. They were addressed at the Little plant by John Stevens, in charge of the pulp and paper department of the plant, who has gone extensively into experiments toward the development of paper from new materials.

Stating that the period of wood pulp is estimated to last only about fifteen years more, Mr. Stevens said that the era of such production really will be a short one in retrospect. Its beginning was about the time of the Civil War. He followed by describing briefly what is being done with bamboo, cotton-bull fiber, cotton linters and sugar cane fiber, all of which show remarkable possibilities for paper making. Samples of paper from these various products, demonstrating what has been accomplished by the experimental paper mill of the Little plant, were passed around for inspection. They were examined carefully by paper men, several of the Boston houses of the trade being represented.

While the paper mills are trying to catch up with production to meet the tremendous demand of today, Mr. Stevens figures that the output of newspaper will not be adequate before 1922. He said that the increase for 1919 over 1918 was 185,000 tons, but that for this year it will be only about 9,000. The prediction of a scarcity until 1922 is based upon the amount of mill building today and because manufacturers of paper-making machinery are far behind orders in production. Orders now are being taken which call for delivery the last of next year.

Following the address of Mr. Stevens, the visitors were shown the experimental paper mill in operation. The mill was working on filter paper, a product which is made nowhere else in the United States. This paper, used by the chemists in the past, has been secured only from Great Britain, Germany and Sweden. The Little chemists, after a year of experiments, have succeeded in making it at their plant. The problem is to reduce the ash and the Little plant makes a paper containing only .00020 per cent. This is even below the ash content of foreign filter paper.

St. Paul, Minn.—Dianas of the "Avenue" will not suffer from high costs this year, dealers in bathing suits here said today.

Of course if they want to pay big prices for fancy affairs, they make 'em up to $150 or even more. But ordinary bathing suits can be bought for $2 to $85.

Men's suits will be the same conservative things of old with possible variations in multi-colored stripes and costing no more than usual.

GAME ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP GROWS

WORKERS REPORTED LARGE AD-DITIONS IN MEMBERSHIP
ROLL IN FIRST
TWO DAYS

Membership of the Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association is growing at a rapid rate. Sportsmen are good sports when it comes to backing aims such as the association sets forth, according to members who are taking part in the drive, and invariably they dig down cheerfully and pay their dollar.

Today is the first day that the campaign has been a "free for all." All who were working had instructions to see only those on their lists for the first three days of the week and after that they are to be allowed to see anybody they wish. Only about half of the men have reported and each one has turned in a good list. The idea of organizing for extensive support of protective game legislation seems to have appealed to everybody who knows anything about the Wisconsin situation. Conservation officials figure that the value of the fish and game reserves of the state aggregate nearly sixty million dollars yearly, and that the least the state can do is to devote the license money to furthering propagation and protection. Enthusiasm for making Appleton's membership the largest in the state is still running high.

ABOUT TOWN

FINAL CONTEST—The final extempore speaking contest to determine the school championship, will be held at Appleton high school tonight. Each of the four winners in class A, B and C contests will take part. The contest is under the direction of B. W. Wells of the history department.

WIN AT OCONTO—Carr and Palmer defeated Freeman and Hammett of Oconto in a three cushion billiard match at Oconto last night by a score of 50 to 39. The Appleton team has taken three straight games out of a series of five.

MOVES OFFICE—Theodore Berg, city attorney, is moving his office from the First National Bank building to the city hall. The council recently voted to give him a room next to the mayor's office.

MANY JOBS—The list of open positions is growing daily since the Home Service Section of the Red Cross entered the employment field. Most of the calls have been from farmers who need hired hands now that spring planting has started. Any person out of employment will be put in touch with the proper parties if they will call at the Home Service office.

"The only difference as far as I can determine is the cost of the land," was his reply. "It will cost the same to put up the building whether we tack onto our present structure or place it on a separate lot."

"How do you feel about building when costs are so high?" was the next question ventured.

"We should not delay because of the cost of labor and materials," he answered. "Neither will come down for perhaps four or five years, judging from present indications. Take sufficient time to get the wishes of the city of Appleton and then proceed with the work regardless of the cost of labor and materials. We should get at this matter now."

Favors Junior School

"How do you feel regarding a junior high school for Appleton?"

"I have given wide study to this matter," he replied, "and I have come to the conclusion that it is the best thing ever planned for the boys and girls of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. I get them away from the idea that there is a chance to leave school when the eighth grade is completed. Instead, they find that they have just begun to acquire learning that which will be of value to them in the future. What appeals to me more than anything else is the vocational guidance feature. To take a boy or girl in hand while in the seventh grade and study his or her aptitudes and then help the child make up its mind which line of work or course of study it should follow because of its natural inclinations is the biggest help we can give. Appleton ought to do this as soon as possible."

Mr. Thieme commented on the attitude of the common council and he believes that its views should be given weighty consideration.

Fear High Tax Talk

"I feel that the council is not in favor of building on a separate site," he said, "because of the additional expense the purchase of the property would entail. It feels that expenses should be curtailed wherever possible so as to make the taxes as low as possible. There is naturally some resentment of the criticism aimed at the administration which was held to account for the high taxes. I feel that if the taxpayers of the city knew just how much this was going to mean on each $1,000 of assessed valuation, they would be perfectly willing to pay the additional taxes, knowing that it was going to bring to Appleton and its children the very best in education."

"Taxpayers look at $50,000 for a school site as a big amount, but when apportioned on each $1,000 valuation it becomes very small when the best interests of the city of Appleton are taken into consideration. All matters upon this basis of so much per $1,000 of assessed valuation, I feel that the council shares our belief that a unit on a new site is the thing for Appleton and that only the matter of purchase price stands in the way of granting our request."

"The Board of Education has no other request to make to the council," Mr. Thieme continued, "so if the council is referred back to us, our convictions will stand about as at present. However, if the council adopts the idea of building an addition and will assume the responsibility for it, the board will then lend its assistance as has been previously stated."

Wants People's Views

A thorough campaign of education is urged by Alderman Fose, who is interested in getting the viewpoint of the public on this important matter.

Purchase of a new school site would be the proper thing," said Mr. Fose, "but I don't feel as though I ought to take that stand with the general public in its present attitude."

"Do you favor an addition or a new building at this time?" was asked.

"From what I can see now," he replied, "an addition would help out present conditions."

Mr. Fose said that an addition at the east end of the high school would probably cost about $150,000 now and a new building to fill the demands properly might run up to $300,000. If he was asked to vote on the matter now, he would vote for an addition if that was not possible he would urge a campaign of education on costs and merits of a new building as against an addition and put the matter to a vote of the people. He did not feel that a body as small as the council should be asked to decide whether the people of Appleton should spend $500,000. He mentioned as one advantage of building an addition the necessity of providing only one heating plant and having the janitor service under one head. This saving should be taken into consideration, he said.

Dislikes Both Sites

"Do you think the school board or the council should determine the kind of school and its location?" was asked.

"I think that matter is up to the Board of Education. They are in a position to know."

"If a building on another site was finally decided upon, which site would you prefer?" asked the reporter.

"Neither of the two suggested. The city is growing westward and these two sites would not be central to that section. The new building should be located in the center of the school population."

"Are you in favor of building now or waiting for better times?" was asked.

Junior School Fine

"Some action is needed now," he answered. "If there was any way to take care of the overflow and avoid building, I would prefer to put it off."

"What do you think of the Junior high school idea?"

"It looks plausible to me," he replied. "The idea of discouraging children from leaving school at the end of the eighth grade is a good one. In the junior high school they see how much good a high school education is going to do them and it is easier to make them finish. They realize that they have not learned any particular line of work when they finish the ward school and the junior high school helps them pick what they want for the future."

Mr. Fose stated that he would vote for an addition if the matter came before the council for action.

GRAPPLING CARD FOR NEXT WEEK IS PLEASING FANS

SCHOBER-MEYERS BOUT HERE THURSDAY NIGHT IS ATTRACTING FAVORABLE ATTENTION

Wrestling fans are agog over the Johnny Meyers-Billy Schober wrestling match scheduled for the armory here next Thursday night. Appleton has never yet staged a sporting event which will settle the world middleweight wrestling title. Announcement that Promoter Elmer Johnston had secured the match for Appleton, outbidding promoters all over the country, was welcomed with delight by local wrestling bugs.

The result of the battle here will be watched with keen interest all over the country. Meyers is recognized by Chicago scribes as world's champ in his class, while Schober, outside of Chicago, is held to be the leader in the middleweight division. Promoters have been endeavoring for the past year to bring the two men together, but without success. A win Thursday night will give Schober an undisputed claim to the championship.

Billy was at Chicago last week, with other ring notables, to watch Meyers successfully battle Kilont. Practically every leader in the middleweight class was present to challenge Meyers for the title, but Schober was given the first chance.

Despite the fact that the first announcement was made yesterday and the bout is only a week away, it is expected that the armory will be jammed to the doors when the men battle. Tickets, placed on sale at the Miller and Zuehlke buffet yesterday, were disposed of quicker than the proverbial hot-cakes. Reservations can also be made with Elmer Johnston.

It was announced today that Meyers will be in the city several days before the bout, so Appleton fans will probably have a chance to look him over before he gets onto the mat. Tom Ryan, Oshkosh, veteran sportsman, has been secured to act as third man in the ring for the championship battle.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pagel of 1111-bert were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koffarnus.

HOSTILITY BREAKS UP SINN FEIN SCRAP

(By Webb Miller.)
By United Press Leased Wire

London.—Increased hostility compelled early abandonment of last night's Sinn Fein demonstration in front of Wormwood Scrubbs prison in protest against confinement of hunger striking Irish political prisoners there.

Anti-Sinn Feiners stoned priests who were reciting the rosary. There were numerous clashes. Six persons were injured in a struggle for possession of a Sinn Fein banner.

Police charged the rioters, using their batons impartially and the demonstration was dispersed.

Six hunger strikers were released from the prison late yesterday.

War Secretary Churchill, in a letter to parliament said British forces in Ireland were 26,840 men and forty tanks.

T. P. O'Connor's motion to adjourn commons in protest against treatment of the Wormwood Scrubbs prisoners was defeated 147 to 12.

LITTLE ITALY'S QUEEN CAPTURED IN A RAID

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Pretty 16-year-old Mrs. Petrina Adamo, termed by the police as "the queen of the bandit gang," was in jail here today, following a raid upon the home of her uncle, which netted the police alleged stolen merchandise valued at $10,000 and some "moonshine" whisky, police said today. The "queen" has been married three years.

One man arrested in the raid gave his name as Joe De Palma and claimed to be a brother of Ralph De Palma, famous automobile racer.

MILWAUKEE IS FACING SERIOUS FUEL FAMINE

By United Press Leased Wire
Milwaukee, Wis.—W. C. Carlson, president of the Association of Commerce, has called a conference of manufacturers this afternoon to discuss ways and means of averting a threatened fuel famine.

Closing of nearly all industries is feared if the situation is not promptly remedied. The only silver lining in the cloud was the expected arrival here today of three boats laden with 20,000 tons of coal. But drastic conservation measures must be taken, industrial leaders here declared today.

W. N. Fitzgerald, war time state fuel administrator, will represent Governor E. L. Phibbs at the conference.

ABANDONMENT OF ROAD TO BE HEARD BY BOARD

Madison.—The railroad commission will hold a hearing at Fairchild, Friday, April 30, in the investigation of the abandonment of service by the Fairchild and Northeastern Railway. Upon the return of the railroads to their owners, March 1, this company, which had heretofore been operated by the federal government, ceased operations. The question has been under investigation by the interstate commerce commission who have just decided that they have no jurisdiction in the case. The company's revenues have never been sufficient to pay operating expenses and the equipment was in such condition at the time of federal control that the United States railroad administration condemned and leased equipment from the Chicago, St. Paul & Omaha railway during the period of federal control. The Omaha railway has now withdrawn this equipment and the present owners are without equipment with which to operate.

WOMEN OFFICIALS RULE CLEAN-LIFE TEXAS TOWN

(By Jesse J. Galders)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Jewett, Texas.—This is a woman-governed town; its municipal policy is "good housekeeping"; all its officials, save the town marshal, are home women.

The feminist movement which swept over Jewett did not originate with the women who were placed in office by the voters. True, the women had uttered some complaints of way things were being run in Jewett and now:

The five aldermen are women. Four ran against their own husbands and won.

One of the lady-aldermen declined to serve; her home duties were too pressing. So, in place of Mrs. J. L. Barron, Mrs. V. L. Smith was selected by the aldermen.

Mrs. J. T. Addison, mayor of Jewett, has based her administration program on strictly home ideas.

We want to do our duty in a modest way, and make a clean-life town; so that we may be proud to call it our home in the same sense that we are proud of the dwellings in which we live.

But for tramping the streets of Jewett night and day to preserve the peace, they are willing that a man should be chosen. So R. F. Dunn is marshal.

LA CROSSE BUILDING TIEUP MADE COMPLETE

La Crosse, Wis.—All remaining building trades union men at work were called out here Saturday following a meeting of the Trades and Labor council. This action was taken because of the refusal of the Master Builders' association to announce the names of members. The workers left six big jobs a week ago. The tie-up of building operations here is complete, 700 men being on strike.

GASOLINE FAMINE HITS CITY ACROSS THE LAKE

Muskegon, Mich.—Muskegon resembles the "gasless Sundays" of war days. No gasoline is to be obtained in the city. Some jitney busses were forced to discontinue service. Kerosene is being used in many machines. A supply is not expected until early next week.

SALMON TROUT EGGS FOR BADGER WATERS
Ashland, Wis.—A half million sla-

mon trout eggs from Seattle have been shipped to the Hayfield hatchery and are being distributed to inland lakes and streams. Twenty-five cans were placed in Long lake this week. The salmon trout grow to 10 or 12 pounds and appear to thrive equally in fresh or salt water. Some salmon trout eggs were planted near Duluth by the government four or five years ago, and quite a number are being caught in Lake Superior now.

BUILD A SEPARATE HIGH SCHOOL

Discussion of the high school problem in the Post-Crescent has developed some interesting facts and has attracted the attention of the public at large. The Post-Crescent has desired to obtain a wholly unprejudiced expression of opinion and to have the question analyzed solely from the standpoint of what might be considered for the welfare of public education in Appleton. It is obvious that whatever is for the good of the schools is for the good of the city. While it is proper to approach this question from a standpoint of the joint interests of schools and taxpayers, the fact remains that they are essentially one and should be so treated. Whatever benefits the schools and enables them to better perform their functions for the education of our children within the limitations set by our public school system is for the good of the taxpayers. They have a prior claim upon our revenues for making them efficient, practical, adequate.

The city is faced with the necessity of providing immediately enlarged high school facilities. The present high school building, even with the barracks built last year, will not accommodate the student body. Existing makeshifts to overcome this difficulty can only be continued to the detriment of the high school and the pupils. It is simply a question if an addition is to be built on the present school, or whether we shall erect a new building on a new location to take care of the overflow and to comprise the first unit of a junior high school and the incorporation of the junior high plan into our school system.

On this question it is clear that the weight of authority is altogether on the side of the latter alternative. The superintendent of schools is for a separate building and for a junior high school, as is Principal Keller of the high school, and both have given the subject long consideration and thorough study. Their views are supported by a majority of the school board, which has also gone into the matter carefully. Ordinarily we should say the judgment of these authorities ought to prevail, and when we add to it the facts and argument which they advance to sustain their position we are of the opinion that the city ought to accept their recommendations and proceed to acquire the proper site and authorize the immediate construction of the first unit of the junior high school.

The element of cost, it is true, is important, but it should not be allowed to control to the point where it jeopardizes the welfare and the future of the schools. It would be cheaper to build onto the present high school, but it seems to us that the school authorities have presented conclusive reasons why it would not be advisable. To anticipate the needs of the future within reason is always better and cheaper in the long run, and the proper expansion and development of our high school, including the progressive junior high movement, is of vital concern to Appleton. That we will profit by adopting the recommendations of the superintendent, principal and the school board is to our mind clearly demonstrated.

THE REPUBLICAN CONTEST

Tuesday's primaries have not altered the situation in the Republican presidential contest materially. Senator Harding is endorsed as a favorite son by Ohio. After the first ballot its vote will go to General Wood, and if a deadlock follows, to any candidate it sees fit to support. Senator Johnson made no contest for Ohio's support, but that does not mean that he may not receive it in the convention.

The indications are that General Wood has carried New Jersey in the presidential primary, but if so it is by a very small margin over Senator Johnson. Mr.

Johnson's showing of strength in the very center of eastern conservatism may be regarded with far greater significance than Wood's bare majority. Massachusetts sends an uninstructed delegation, as usual under the control of Senator Lodge. The most that can be predicted so far as Massachusetts is concerned is that its support will not go to Western radicalism.

The net result of Tuesday's developments is that Johnson's candidacy is strengthened and Wood's remains about stationary. It will require still more voting and more open disclosure of the purposes of Republican leaders to shed further light on the situation. The popular idea that Johnson is likely to be the nominee is increasing, but that is far from constituting a real reason for the acceptance of this conclusion.

WATER TRANSPORTATION

The commercial interests of Wisconsin have united in an indorsement of the Kellogg bill, recently introduced in congress, which repeals that portion of the Panama Canal act which forbids railroads in the Great Lakes territory to operate boat lines in connection with their railways. Representatives of Wisconsin Associations of Commerce, together with representatives of the Association of Commerce of Chicago, met in Milwaukee and recommended the passage of this measure. The purpose is to stimulate water transportation and to bring about a restoration of package freight service on the Great Lakes.

As a policy of expediency passage of the Kellogg bill is advised by the transportation needs of this country. It offers perhaps the only practical method for increasing lake traffic to a considerable degree. When the Panama Canal act was passed the clause which divorced rail and water carriers was inserted to promote the use of the canal in competition with the railroads for trans-continental business. It was a protective step designed to encourage the use of this great waterway, and incidentally it was believed it would tend to revive water transportation generally.

It is a matter of history, however, that the effects of divorcing rail and water carriers were not what were anticipated. It was true the railroads had succeeded in stifling water traffic while they were permitted to own and operate boats, but it also proved to be true that they were able to accomplish the same thing when deprived of this privilege. Panama Canal traffic has been only a fraction of what it was expected to be, and of what that splendid thoroughfare ought to carry as an economic asset to the United States and to business and the whole field of transportation. The railroads have succeeded in driving out competition through the canal, except in a comparatively few instances where powerful corporations engaged in extensive shipping operations have been able to weather their attacks and to operate at a profit.

The reason why the attempt to create independent water competition both through the Panama Canal and on the Great Lakes has been a failure is because railroads have been permitted to discriminate against this competition to the extent that they have made it unprofitable for capital to engage in it. The interstate commerce act and its administration are solely responsible. This act has existed and been applied for the benefit of the railroads exclusively. That is the national policy, and we shall never have water competition in its true sense so long as this policy stands. Not only discriminatory rates, but in the case of the Great Lakes closed terminals to independents have added to the inability of such boat lines to expand and thrive, and in most instances even to exist.

It is clear, therefore, that so long as the national policy prevails with reference to railroads and waterways, and the former are protected at the expense of the latter, the only way we can have a measure of water transportation which our shipping interests and freight congestion in general demand is to permit the railroads to operate boat lines. As we have said, it should be regarded as a temporary expedient, to be modified or terminated whenever the country through congress shall bring about the development of water transportation on sound economic principles.

The boarding house in New York city is slowly but surely taking its place alongside the do-do, cheap food and four star Scotch whiskey. It will soon be a thing of the past. With the present serious housing shortage, officials declare there is no place for the boarding house, and the big buildings, where formerly the pruned forth are being converted into small apartment houses.

Chrys' Ouija Board Reveals an Exciting Message from Rasputin

Now that the tragedy is ended, Chrys remembers and has written to us that she perceived the fanatic, Sandy McCall, edging closer to the group about the ouija board. She thought it best not to notice him. If he were excited he might go off into one of his fearful prophecies of a hundred years of war in Europe.

"Best to let him listen—it will keep him quiet," she decided, and returned to her task of recording the ouija revelations which Katherine was about to set from her new control.

"Is the control a famous person?" asked Katherine.

"Very," spelled the pointer.

"Spell, slowly, the name he was known by when he lived on earth?"

"R-A-S-P-U-T-I-N!"

Katherine Miller went white as a ghost! Chrys shuddered as she perceived that she had set down the name of the traitorous monk who had ruled the late empress and through her, half the Russian people.

"Rasputin!"—in four languages, made a veritable confusion of tongues. But no one could be confused about the startling effect that horrid name had produced. Certes alone kept his head. He interrupted Katherine with a hard laugh, and attempted to remove the ouija board from her grasp, with joking insistence.

One of the Russians interrupted him.

"What does that devil want here?" he asked in a hoarse voice and with a wretched French accent.

The medium put the question. The answer came back:

"I hate! That is why I am here!"

"Whom do you hate?"

"Those who murdered me! Those who killed the czar and the czar! Those who caused the downfall of the imperial!"

At this point the control, Rasputin, became unintelligible, according to Katherine. So far she had manufactured the dialogue to suit her own purpose, I suppose. She had been playing a trick. At last she had reached the psychological moment when she could put a certain theory to the test and catch a criminal by the revelations he would make of his own subconscious mind.

The control—Rasputin—says that he must communicate with somebody in his native tongue. Katherine looked up suddenly at the younger, the more emotional, the more imaginative of the Russians.

Once more Certes would have ended the seance, but Katherine thrust the ouija board into the Russian's trembling hands.

For a few moments the pointer wavered helplessly and unintelligently. The crazy sailor edged closer to Chrys and stood where he could look over her shoulder as she wrote down what the board spelled out. Nobody thought about sending the man away.

It must have been a dramatic scene, but our correspondents did not take time to describe it. It appears that the pointer moved jerkily and nervously under the aristocratic fingers of the Russian. Finally it spelled "Rasputin," as if introducing the control again, and then it fairly flew about the board. Chrys wrote down a word or two, then stopped. They were not words she could understand.

"Madame! Madame! Proceed!" whispered the sailor.

Then she surmised that she was writing Russian! And being a true believer in the ouija cult, she continued to make the record with feverish interest. She hadn't an idea of the meaning of what she wrote, but she considered it a veritable revelation from the unseen world.

When the seance was over, she would have the record translated into French. She knew it was a startling, a terrible message, for as the words framed themselves on the pad the sailor breathed hard close to her heart!

Today's Poem
EDMUND VANCE COOKEDOWN DIXIE WAY
(A Song)

There's a little, lost town down Dixie way,
Down Dixie way, down Dixie way,
Where the years are young and the hearts are gay
And the perfume bubbles across the bay
And December blooms with the flowers of May,
Down Dixie way, down Dixie way,
In the dear little town down Dixie way.
Oh, the skies are clearer
And the hearts are dearer
And the face of a friend is a laughing mirror.
And it sends back all that the soul would say
To a friend in the town down Dixie way.
Down Dixie way.

As the world went wandering by to-day,
Went by today, went by today,
O, the miracle maiden passed my way,
And the stones of the pavement leaped in play,
For the bloom of her breath was that rare bouquet
That rare bouquet, that rare bouquet
Of the lost little town down Dixie way.
Oh, the skies shone brighter
And the clouds were whiter
And the heart of the world laughed
Light and lighter.
As I told her all I had meant to say
In the lost little town down Dixie way.
Down Dixie way.

SECOND-HAND DEALERS HARD HIT BY TIMES

Pittsburg.—The second-hand furniture business is doomed in the opinion of several dealers here. The ever-mounting cost of living has caused people to retain their slightly used goods and the present store stocks are rapidly diminishing.

Demands are heavy but the supply is discouragingly low. No more does that pretty carpet go on the auction block because the fabric is worn on the side near the door. It's turned around and put under the piano. Some have learned the remarkable transformation caused by varnish on a scratched table and many, for the first time, are using hammer and nails on that cracked chair.

The auctioneers are hunting other vocations. Their business is crippled too. Storage houses are packed but rentals are being kept up to date in almost every instance. To avoid high rents many have stored their goods and resorted to furnished rooms. That's where the use for that damaged piece of furniture comes in, and that's why used-goods men are worrying.

London.—Noticing, on returning home, that painters had broken his clock, William Pessket gloomily declared "Somebody's going to die in this house." Shortly afterwards he collapsed and died of heart failure.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, May 2, 1895.

Miss Irene Whitman was quite ill and was threatened with an attack of fever.

A. J. Ingold was in Chicago on a business trip.

T. S. Allen of Joliet, Ill., architect of the new Fifth ward school building, was in Appleton looking over the progress of the work.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wright celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage.

George L. Potts left for the Seine river gold fields, where he expected to be engaged in mining and assaying operations for several months.

The city park was being cleaned up and put in apple pie order by the park commissioners. Fred Pfennig was appointed park policeman.

Reports of city officers to the common council for the month of April showed the following expenditures: Street department, $1,194; poor department, $656; fire department, $961.

The water in the river the night previous went to such a low stage that the mills on the upper power were compelled to shut down.

The new track of the Appleton Track and Driving club was completed.

Twenty-two singing societies besides the two local societies had made arrangements to take part in the saengerfest to be held in Appleton on June 15 and 16.

The Star Whist club was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Lew Jabus. The prizes were won by Mrs. John Esser and N. C. Gintz.

The contracts for A. J. Ingold's new residence on east College avenue were awarded as follows: Carpenter work, W. W. De Long; masonry and brick work, Fred Koepke; plumbing, Nichols and Ryan.

They're Off Again

I heard a policeman on his beat
Say to a pedestrian on the street
That he knew a man on Puget Sound
Who heard of a guy in a Kansas town
That overheard this on a train
About a man that came from Maine,
Who met a man in Tennessee
That knows who our next president will be.

SPRING

Though food is scarce and times are hard, to keep my standing as a bard, I now must rise and sing; the union to which I belong decrees this is the time for song; yea, brother, it is spring! It matters not how chill the blast, the date shows April going fast, and April is the time when we, while bugging still the heat, must twang the tuncful lyre and bleat our ecstasies in rhyme. I gulp my tonic down and write: "Hail, vernal maiden, fair and bright! Ethereal mildness, hail! Hail, buttercups and whip-poor-wills," and all the time it's hailing bills, they come in every mail. No crocuses bedeck the yard, no lambskins skip upon the sward, nay, not a single skip; spring's kisses turn my fingers blue, I catch, when I would dodge the flu, the palsy and the plop.

BREAKFAST FOOD FOR LONG LIFE'S SAKE

One of the many senseless customs of the grand old public in a well known country where matters of health and hygiene are left to the judgment of Messrs. Tom, Dick and Harry who pose as authorities heaven-inspired, is eating a lot of committed cats or whipped wheat or corned corn for breakfast, and then turning right around, between two gasps, and bidding the waiter to bring on the toast or waffles or pancakes, as though the sole aim of life and liberty to pursue the deflated little round iron men were nothing but carbohydrate.

We begin breakfast with a little tart carbohydrate in the shape of an orange or a grapefruit. Then we take a refreshing plunge in the washbowl which the waiter accommodately brings to the table, and after a brief swim we emerge and tackle a plate of shrapnelled cereal.

The cereal is refined, toasted, disinfected, scrubbed and polished. The manufacturer even adds a few squirts of molasses or something to sweeten it, but we are not content with such a low form of carbohydrate, so we endeavor to worry down our cereal well sprinkled with refined sugar.

Again the waiter advances, gives the counter sign, and retires, and we wade into a plate of carbohydrate nominated toast in the menu.

Having tried several pieces of the toast and found them guilty, we once more hearken his nibs, and he takes the remains out and hurries back with the pancakes. These are a form of carbohydrate imported chiefly from Brazil.

All of this breakfast food would furnish considerable muscle energy if folks had any use for muscle energy. But folks haven't, so the energy is stored up in the form of superfluous flesh, slacker tissue, just fat.

Our friends who warn us so often, and so unwarrantably, I am sure, that we shouldn't take fruit and milk at the same meal, would get nearer to physiological truth if they should warn us instead that we shouldn't take more than one helping of carbohydrate for breakfast.

A dish of home cooked cereal, with milk or cream, and a wee bit of sugar on, and a cup of coffee.

Some fruit, some toast, and a cup of coffee.

Pancakes or other hot cakes, and a cup of coffee.

Toast, ham or bacon and egg, and a cup of coffee.

But for long life's sake let us not try to take all the carbohydrates at one meal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Attention Young Physiologists

Our physiology class has raised the following questions and would appreciate your opinion. 1. Is there a valve at the Cardiac opening of the stomach, or is that opening into the stomach closed by a muscular band?

2. Is it hygienial to sleep after eating a full meal? 3. What causes dreams?

4. What causes high blood pressure? (Student.)

ANSWER—1. No, there is a circular sphincter or purse-string arrangement of the muscular fibres to guard the entrance. 2. It is usually better to rest after a hearty meal, and sleep later if fatigued. However, a nap immediately after eating the ordinary meals is certainly hygienial, as you call it. (That's a good word, too.) 3. Sometimes sleeping after a very hearty meal causes awful dreams. Light sleep, excitement in the evening, lack of daily open air exercise and indulgence in tea and coffee in the evening may cause dreams. 4. High blood pressure is caused by various diseases, by the habit of hearty eating without vigorous exercise every day, by alcohol, tobacco, chronic low grade lead poisoning.

They Still Consult the Almanac
My baby is fourteen months old and I suppose I should begin to think of weaning him. Friends say I should wean by the almanac, but I don't understand the signs and so.....

ANSWER—My dear woman, wean the baby now, even if they fail to publish the almanac this year. It is rarely advisable to continue breast feeding beyond the eleventh month, and the average mother should wean when the baby is ten months old.

GETS CHOICE OF FINE OR 6 MONTHS IN JAIL

TOWN OF MAINE MAN FOUND GUILTY OF STEALING TIMBER GIVEN CHOICE OF SENTENCES.

Harry Spencer of the town of Maine was found guilty of larceny of timber by a jury in municipal court Wednesday afternoon and was given his choice between a fine of $200 and costs, the latter amounting to $75, or six months in the county jail. After the jury rendered its verdict, Frank Bradford, also of the town of Maine, who was charged with the same offense, pleaded guilty and received similar punishment. Sentence was suspended, however, on account of his age, 65 years.

The value of the timber was $25. It was cut last January on a farm belonging to R. J. Fox. The defense argued that it was taken by mistake; that the men had secured permission from Walter J. Hammond to cut cordwood, but had gotten on the wrong land. The case was prosecuted by Fred V. Heinemann, district attorney, while the defendant was represented by Attorney Mark Catlin. The case went to trial at ten o'clock in the morning and reached the jury shortly after four o'clock in the afternoon. The jury rendered its verdict after an hour's deliberation. Spencer was remanded to the county jail until he makes up his mind which he will do.

NO SPECIAL EXPRESS CAR FOR APPLETON

EXPRESS SERVICE IS HANDICAPPED BY NEW ARRANGEMENT BUT CHANGE IS EXPECTED

The special express train which was to have started running April 6 between Chicago and Green Bay made its first run Tuesday but contained no car for Appleton. Shipments for this city were in the Green Bay car and had to be unloaded on the depot platform as usual.

W. N. Kimball, local agent for the American Railway Express company, is at a loss to explain why Appleton was not given a "set out" car of its own as originally planned. His orders from the superintendent of Milwaukee informed him that this was to be done.

The arrangement of giving Appleton and Green Bay one car together is a handicap to service here, as most of the heavy shipments formerly arrived on the various night trains and were prepared by the night crew for early morning delivery. Now the goods are not unloaded until 8:30 in the morning and the work of preparing them for delivery does not start until then. Mr. Kimball feels that Appleton will be given its own car soon.

The train leaves Chicago shortly after midnight and delivers a car each to Racine, Kenosha, Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh and Green Bay. It leaves Green Bay for Chicago again at 8:55 in the evening, picking up the reloaded cars.

board proceedings into the meeting. "I don't believe we ought to bring the county board into the Equity society," he said. Mr. Thiel was permitted to continue reading, however. Mr. Ballard stated that the resolution denouncing the senior senator was drawn up by P. W. Silverwood and was signed by other members. "I stated at that time," said Mr. Ballard, "that they would live long enough to be ashamed of that resolution, and I think that the time has come when the thing ought to be brought up and have it expunged from the record. It does not look very nice to have a thing like that on the county records when a man has received such an endorsement by the people. I said that some of the men who voted for that resolution would not be back here next spring."

Tables Endanger'd
The second resolution was the one of contention and the discussion that followed its introduction took up a great part of the afternoon. Oratory was not lacking and the speakers frequently emphasized their points with resounding thumps on tables and desks. Otto Rohm said that as a member of the state board he would be held responsible to a certain extent for the answers. He felt it his duty to protect the society and admitted that there had been some agitation both in the state and Outagamie county of what amounted to nothing more than secession. He told of the meetings he attended in Kewaunee county at the time of the secession in that part of the state and said it was the kind of equity that was in their hearts to pass the resolution. He was standing up for the organization, not Tittmore, and advised cooperation among the members. Mr. Luedtke of Grand Chute said that he was surprised to hear Mr. Rohm talk about Kewaunee county and expressed a wish that he talk about the different locals of the Outagamie Union. In reply, Mr. Rohm said that he didn't know anything about the Mackville and Badger locals only what he had heard. "No information has ever come from officials that you have voted to withhold your money from the state organization," he said. "We have that report from the Apple Creek local."

Condemns Equity News
Henry Thiel, manager of the Equity Exchange, in order to enlighten members, issued a challenge for a debate, but it was not accepted. He said he had met both Larson and

Pomeroy in debate and when someone wanted to know the question Mr. Ballard recalled it. "Be It Resolved That It Was a Waste of Money to Pay Dues in the State of Wisconsin." Mr. Thiel's principal target, however, was the Equity News. He said that he doubted if anyone was more disgusted with the last issue than he. "You couldn't find anything," he said, "for page after page was advertising."

Pleads for Harmony
Mr. Thiel endeavored to have an Equity Exchange advertisement inserted in the News, but was turned down. He wanted to know to whom the paper belonged, to the state board or to members. Mr. Hurst said he was very sorry to hear such criticism. He did not believe that the Equity could long prosper under those conditions. "We have got to get down to harmony," he said. "I know that there is a certain faction at work today trying to down the Equity. I am positive of it. I have worked for the Equity perhaps longer than any other man in this county. I have put in more time than any other man and have charged nothing for my services. I believe if this goes on record today you are simply adding fuel to the fire. I say it is time for us as Equity members to get down to work and stay there. I hope the time will come when we can get down to work together as members. Let us drop these things. It is a cinch if that resolution goes through you are condemning your state board. I don't believe it is right to condemn it. Instead of getting the good will of the board you are antagonizing it. I don't believe in carrying personalities into Equity work. Let us go to work together. That is the only thing that is going to make it a success."

Ryan Has His Say
"Right, you are!" rang out a voice from the balcony. Instantly all eyes were turned in that direction. It was D. J. Ryan of county board fame who had approved Mr. Hurst's appeal. Mr. Ryan was attending a meeting of the county, state road and bridge committee in the county highway commissioner's office on the third floor and yielded to the temptation of listening to some of the oratory without anyone being aware of his presence.

The discussion then switched to the locals that were reported to have seceded and to the state organizer, Hanrahan, who was endeavoring to get them back into the fold. "I want to say to you as a member of the state board," said Mr. Thiel in addressing the presiding officer, "that your state organizer made the biggest blotch in Center Valley last Saturday night that any man ever pulled off. I know because I took him out in my automobile. Instead of using tact he soon had the members calling each other names."

C. B. Ballard inquired of Mr. Rohm how big a salary they paid Hanrahan and when informed said it was too much, that he was only worth about half the amount.

Harry Ballard, one of the officials of the Apple Creek Local, told about Hanrahan calling upon him and about him asking for the records. He showed them to him and after going over them carefully Hanrahan said he would have to submit them to the state board before he could take any action. "Did he take them with him?" inquired his father, C. B. Ballard. The son replied in the affirmative.

Pallard Not a Member?

C. B. Ballard then read a paragraph signed by J. N. Tittmore which stated that he, Ballard, was representing himself as a member of the Society of Equity which he is not. "The Apple Creek Local must be reorganized," Tittmore said, "before it has any standing in the state. This Local will not come back into the Union with Ballard as an officer or member." Mr. Ballard thought it was very strange inasmuch as the Apple Creek delegation, including himself, had been seated and he exhibited his membership card which showed that his dues had been paid up to June 20, 1920. He said that Tittmore claimed that the only way a member could get out of the state union was to be a delinquent, hence he contradicts himself.

Not a Secessionist
In reply Mr. Rohm said: "Individually you are a member. As an individual you cannot withdraw unless you resign or fail to pay your dues, but when a Local takes action to withhold its dues that society is out of the society." Mr. Ballard said that he never preached secession. "I have told the boys," he said, "to stand by the union. No one ever heard me tell any man to get out of the union."

The discussion again reverted to the Equity News. Mr. Rohm said that he did not sanction everything that appeared in its columns and stated that it was necessary to take on advertisements in order to put the publication on its feet. Mr. Ballard made it a special point to inquire of Mr. Rohm the amount of salary those connected with it were receiving and in each instance said it was too much, especially that of Holmes who was drawing $4,000.

Meet With Trade Council
The only other resolution adopted read:

"Whereas the Trades and Labor Councils of Appleton and Kaukauna have appointed a committee to meet with a like committee of the American Society of Equity for the purpose of the welfare of both organizations along political lines, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That a delegate from each Local together with the executive board of the Outagamie County Union of the American Society of Equity meet with the committee of the Trades and Labor Councils of the two cities at the Trades and Labor hall, May 8, 1920, at 8 p. m."

Henry Thiel, chairman of the cold storage committee stated that on account of the high price of material the committee had taken no action concerning the erection of the new plant at this time. Harry Ballard, chairman of the social committee, reported that no meeting had been held and that nothing had been planned for the future. It was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting at Date.

MOTOR EQUIPMENT IS GIVEN OVERHAULING

Motor equipment of the fire department is being given a thorough overhauling by a mechanic from the American La France automobile factory. The company sends a man here at regular intervals to go over the engines and keep them fit. While each hose truck is temporarily out of commission, a trailer is kept attached to the chief's car in which an ample supply of hose is carried.

SMALL BUYING SENDS GRAIN PRICES DOWN

LEAD CHICAGO MARKETS SHORTLY STAYED OUT OF PITTS AND PRICES MODERATE—WATCH INDUSTRIAL SITUATION

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago. — Grain futures were lower on the Chicago board of trade today. Corn futures were down 1 cent and more and oats dropped 1 cent.

Short who bolstered the market yesterday, stayed out of the pits and there was little activity on the buying side. Clearing weather was one bearish factor but the general economic situation was the term used by most traders in explaining their deals.

Close watch was kept on the industrial situation and the earnings on stocks. The steel market had its effect also.

May corn opened at $1.73 1/2, unchanged, but later lost 1 cent. July corn was down 1/2 cent at the opening and subsequently dropped to $1.62 1/2, down 2 cents. September corn after opening 1/2 cent at $1.58, lost two cents.

May oats was 1/4 cent down at the opening 98 1/2, but regained that fraction in later trading. July oats opened at 88 1/2, down 1/2 cent and thereafter lost 1/2 cent additional

$100,000 CHEESE PLANT FOR CHIPPEWA FALLS
Chippewa Falls, Wis.—Reduction in the expense of food distribution will be undertaken, it is believed, by the incorporation of the Chippewa valley branch of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' federation and the erection of a cheese storage plant to cost $100,000. Cheese factory patrons of ten counties will meet at Marshland, May 15. Henry Krumpholtz, Plymouth, president of the state federation, will be one of the speakers.

BETTER ROADS MEAN MORE SPUDS ON SALE

Ashland, Wis.—Large quantities of potatoes buried in cellars all winter are coming to the market. Thousands of bushels in northern Wisconsin were held up all winter by the unprecedented depth of snow and the condition of country roads, which were impassable for weeks. For a time no teams were able to get through some country roads.

CITIZENS GIVE AID TO HOME BUILDING

Eau Claire, Wis.—During a drive of the Eau Claire Home Building Co., $57,000 was paid or pledged, which with the concern's ability to borrow, will afford funds for a large field of operation.

Application has been made to the state to increase the capital stock from $30,000 to $100,000. Groups of houses are going up in several parts of the city under the direction of this company and plans for extensive additions are under way.

Plans may be perfected by which manufacturers will give substantial assistance in home building even if their concerns are not permitted to take stock in the Home Building company. Growth of industries is greatly hampered by lack of houses here.

VAN CLEAVE STRICKEN IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Marquette—John A. Van Cleave, capitalist and prominent pioneer resident of Marquette, lies in critical condition at his home here. He was a member of the capitol commission during the building of the new capitol at Madison, and was associated with the late United States Senator Isaac Stevenson of Marquette and H. A. J. Upham in business enterprises. He was president of the Stevenson National bank at Marquette for many years, resigning a few months ago because of ill-health. Two sons, John and Ralph, are on route from California, summoned because of their father's illness. Mr. Van Cleave was the first mayor of Marquette, and held other public offices before the city was incorporated.

FARMERS MAY COMPETE TO BRING DOWN PRICES

Janesville, Wis.—The Rock county farm bureau announces that it is ready to go into any business where it finds that prices are too high. The bureau procured space from the local Tobacco Growers' association in a large warehouse.

"We are not going to disregard the regularly established business," says R. T. Glasco, county agent, "but where we find prices are too high if we cannot make suitable arrangements with the dealers we will go into the market ourselves." Threats of farmers to take their banking and other business to other cities should Janesville adopt a daylight saving program, is another move of the bureau.

Farmers have at last started spring seeding. They are all busy today trying to make up for lost time. Unless it rains, this work will all be finished by the first of the week. George Geran, Boston, center, ran him a close second for scoring honors, with three goals.

The defense of the Americans was perfect, the Swedes at no time being able to present a dangerous offense.

CAFETERIAS MAKE UP PROHIBITION LOSSES

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Cafeterias and coffee shops are two enterprises helping hotel men meet revenues lost through prohibition, according to information gathered by officials of the Hotel Men's Show, which is to be held here May 19 to 25.

Many factories and manufacturing establishments are contemplating installation of cafeterias, the hotel showmen have also learned.

The inquiries received from factories indicate manufacturers are responding to the plea for chances of reducing living costs by installation of cafeterias, officials said.

G. O. P. FACTIONS MOVE BATTLE FROM EASTERN STATES

CENTRAL AND FAR WESTERN STATES WILL BE BATTLE-GROUNDS THE COM-ING WEEK.

(By Harold D. Jacobs)
By United Press Leased Wire
New York. With the smoke of Tuesday's primaries still hovering over the battlegrounds, obscuring
the result in New Jersey, at least, the republican divisions were moving on to new sectors today, where the pre-convention campaign will be renewed next week.

The republicans will hold a program in Maryland and a state convention in Utah on Monday; primaries in California and Indiana Tuesday; a state convention in Mississippi Wednesday; and a state convention in Colorado Thursday.

The democrats will hold a primary in California and a state convention in Kentucky Tuesday and state conventions in Connecticut and Rhode Island Thursday.

The principal contests will be staged in the republican primaries in California and Indiana. The candidacy of Herbert Hoover will be put to its most severe test in the Pacific coast state. Both he and Senator Johnson are bidding for the "favorite son" endorsement there. They are the only two entries in the primary.
The former food administrator has set out to win a single delegate to the Chicago convention.

California has 26 delegates.

Indiana will find Johnson, General
Wood, Governor Lowden, of Illinois, and Senator Warren G. Harding arranged against each other.

In that state a candidate must poll
a majority over all other contestants to win the 30 delegates.

Wood and Johnson again lock horns in Maryland. A short time ago the state's 16 delegates were practically conceded to the general, but a strong Johnson sentiment has developed there.

Uninstructed delegations are expected from Utah and Colorado.

PALMER HAS NEW PLAN TO CURB SUGAR GOUGERS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
Washington. Attorney General Palmer is to outline a new plan for curbing sugar profiteers when he appears before the house judiciary committee, democratic members were informed today.

Additional legislation probably will be asked by Palmer as the result of his recent conference with sugar refiners and wholesalers. The object of the legislation will be to take sugar out of the hands of speculators. Representative Howard, Oklahoma, will introduce the measure.

ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL TRACK MEET TOMORROW

The annual high school interclass track meet will be held tomorrow afternoon at Lawrence field. The entry list is one of the biggest in years, and a classic meet appears in prospect.

Juniors and seniors, as usual, will fight out the battle for first place. It appears, although the sophs are confident of cutting considerable figure in the meet.

CARRANZA HOLD IS SLIPPING AND HE MAY QUIT OFFICE

MEXICAN CAPITAL IN PANIC AS REVOLUTION SPREADS — MEXICO CITY IS CUT OFF

(By United Press Leased Wire)
Mexico City. — Both Ignacio Bonillas, former ambassador to the United States, and General Pablo Gonzales, candidates for the presidency, have agreed to withdraw in the interest of peaceful settlement of the presented disturbed condition of the country, the newspaper El Universal and Excelsior said today.

San Antonio. — President Carranza's government in Mexico is tottering and Mexico City is in a state of panic, Colonel Enrique Bercera, brother of Alfredo Bercera, governor of the federal district of Mexico, declared today on his arrival here from Mexico City.

"Revolution has broken out in twenty states in Mexico," Bercera declared, predicting the entire country would shortly revolt.

Bercera renounced Carranza and pledged support to General Obregon when he arrived here.

"The revolution has encircled Mexico City completely, cutting it off from the world," Bercera said.

Bercera predicted Carranza would shortly resign. He said congress probably would convene in extra session and name a provisional president who will give equal guarantees to all presidential candidates.

(By Ralph H. Turner)

Mexico City. — General Miguel Saamanico, one of the Calles leaders in command of a detachment in the region of Pulpito Pass, has deserted the Sonora revolutionists and adhered to the Carranza government, it was announced officially here today.

The government admitted that Morelia, capital of Michoacan, had been evacuated by federal troops but only "for strategic reasons."

The city was not attacked, the statement said.

POLISH AIRMEN BOMB BOLSHEVIST CITY

(By United Press Leased Wire)
London. — Polish troops, advancing against the Russian bolsheviks in Volhynia and Podolia have sent an aircraft which bombed the important city of Kieff, killing ten and wounding fourteen persons, a Moscow wireless dispatch today said.

General Wrangel, the anti-bolshevik commander in south Russia, attacked the soviet armies in the Crimea at the same time the Polish offensive started, a News Agency dispatch from Constantinople today said.

Wrangel claimed to have inflicted severe defeat on the Reds taking many prisoners.

TABOR MURDER CASE GOES TO THE JURY

(By United Press Leased Wire)
Paw Paw, Mich. — The fate of Mrs.
Sarah L. Tabor, 80, charged with manslaughter, in the death of her daughter, Maude Tabor Virgo, 45, rested with the jury today.

Mrs. Tabor was arrested in California following finding of her daughter's body in a "hoop chest" in the cellar of the Tabor home at Lawton, Mich.

An alleged confession of Mrs. Tabor was repudiated by her during the trial.

Josef Virgo, undertaker and husband of the dead woman, was arrested but later dismissed. Following his release he disappeared and efforts to locate him have failed. The state had planned to use him as its star witness.

ANOTHER VERSION OF GIRL SLAYING COMING

(By United Press Leased Wire)
Pontiac, Mich. — Attempts were to be made by authorities today to secure a new confession from Anson Best, who according to police yesterday admitted he murdered Vera Schneider, 19 years old, phone operator, because "she asked me to kill her."

The confession alleged to have been secured yesterday, said Best flirted with the girl, took her to an unfinished dwelling and strangled her with handkerchiefs.

Best was reported today ready to make another confession. Officials said he would admit that he attempted to attack the girl and killed her when she refused his advances.

Several parcels sent by Appleton people to Germany last November were lost by the sinking of the steam-

STILL SEEK HOME FOR WIDOW AND CHILDREN

Several families who did not wish to see a widow and four children ejected from their home, as a recent article in this paper mentioned, telephoned the Red Cross Home Service office, offering a few rooms, but none of the places so far suggested was adequate to house five people.

The house which the family occupied was sold and two notices have been served on the woman to vacate.

She has no place in which to move and may be obliged to send her children to the Home for Dependent Children at De Pere unless something turns up. She earns part of her living by washing and cleaning and receives the balance from a mother's pension.

The Home Service office would like further information regarding houses or rooms that would keep this family together.

granting the right of suffrage to ternoon at the school. Four judges decided that the negative team debating the question: "Should the women have the right of equal suffrage," presented the best arguments.

The negative debaters were Adeline Riedi, Gertrude Kettchenhoff and Amalia Boehler. The affirmative was Neuman and Dorothy Verrier.

Judges were Sister Mary Baptista, Sister Louise, Sister Terracine and the time is not natural for anyone.

Often it is due merely to faulty kidney action. Housework, the many family cares and loss of rest and sleep, all wear the nerves and so weaken the kidneys. Then comes that tired, fretful, half-sick state. If you have headache, headache, dizziness, and kidney irregularities, try Doan's Kidney Pills. They have brought health and happiness to thousands of women. Ask your neighbor.

An Appleton Woman's Experience and Story. "My back hurt me and I had a constant dull pain across my kidneys. The action of my kidneys was irregular and I had headaches and dizziness. I was run down and was easily tired and often felt weak.
I always resorted to Doan's Kidney Pills and one box would give me great relief. I can recommend Doan's as being a reliable remedy."

partment and club are also invited.

partment, work will be provided to earn the necessary membership fee the girls do not possess it.

SIX STUDENTS WHITE LATIN EXAMINATIONS

Lawrence people will have a chance to uphold their Alma Mater
this week in entering a Latin contest. Men and women will be allowed to compete for the prizes which are offered by the Latin League of Wisconsin colleges.

The late Dr. E. D. Wright of Lawrence did much to found this organization several years ago. These six colleges joined with him in forming the league: Beloit, Carroll, Lawrence, Milton, Milwaukee-Downer and Rinon. Annual examinations in Latin are held and various prizes and honors are awarded. The Louis R. Kirschner Memorial prize, the largest, is $250 in cash. This was established by Fred Felix Wettengel, of Appleton, who was the largest contributor to the endowment fund.

The examination this year is held April 30 at the University of Wisconsin at Madison. The following people will represent Lawrence:
Seniors: Ella Benyas, Frances Dixon, Agnes Hammond, Merton Lean; Juniors: Della Burgess and Edith Rendall.

LA CROSSE GIRL GETS MADISON SCHOLARSHIP

The Wisconsin University scholarship which is given each year to some member of the graduating class at Lawrence has been given to Jennie Dixon of La Crosse. Miss Dixon expects to take a Master's degree in history there next year.

A scholarship at the University of Illinois, which includes tuition and $300, has been accepted by Laura Schramm of Platteville. She was also offered a similar scholarship at the Northwestern University. Miss Schramm will take up work in history.

ent locals of the American Society of Equity, one from each local, met with a similar committee from the Trades and Labor Council at Trades and Labor hall at seven o'clock last evening and discussed matters of mutual interest in a preliminary way.
Fred E. Bachman presided and among those who made short speak-

WINTER COLDS—
BAD BLOOD

You are pale, thin, weak—with little vitality. Your liver is sluggish and the bad blood causes your stomach muscles to lose their elasticity and become flabby and weak—then indigestion.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made from wild roots and barks, and free from alcohol or narcotics, is the great and powerful blood purifier of to-day. Ingredients printed on wrapper. This tonic, in liquid or tablet form, is just what you need to give you vim, vigor and vitality.

Take the "Discovery" as directed and it will search out impure and poisonous matter throughout the system and eliminate it through the natural channels.

You can procure a trial package of the tablets by sending 10c. to the Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Stevens Point, Wis.—"Ever since I can remember, when I was a child at home, Dr. Pierce's medicines have been our family medicine. About two years ago I was very much run-down. I suffered less of appetite, my blood was not as good as it should be, I got so bad I had to take to my bed. I started taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I soon began to feel better and three bottles of this medicine was all I had to use to put me in fine condition. I had a good appetite, my strength came back, and I once more felt that life was worth living. There is no better medicine—I do heartily recommend it. I shall be glad to answer any communication regarding it if stamped envelope is enclosed."—MRS. A. W. HAWLEY, Route 3.

CUBS TRIUMPH OVER THE PIRATES BY 11 TO 1 COUNT

CHICAGO—Chicago lunched hits behind Pittsburgh's erratic fielding and won the final game of the series here on Wednesday, 11 to 1. Alexander kept the visitors' hits scattered, being backed by perfect support. Whitted's triple and an infield out saved Pittsburgh from a shut-out. Score: Chicago 11, Pittsburgh 1.

RED SOX AND ATHLETICS IN 14 INNING TIE GAME

PHILADELPHIA—Darkness stopped the game between Boston and Philadelphia here on Wednesday in the 14th inning, with the score 7 to 7. Kinney's wildness and errors by Dykes helped the visitors to a lead in the early innings, but Jones weakened and only sensational fielding by Foster prevented the locals from winning in the seventh and eighth innings. At the 14th inning, Philadelphia announced the release of Pitcher Gibson to the Joplin, Missouri, club. Pitcher Grievell to the Jersey City International league team, and Catcher John Walker to Akron, Ohio, International. Score: Boston 7, Philadelphia 7.

BROWNS AGAIN DEFEAT DETROIT TIGERS, 6 TO 0

ST. LOUIS—St. Louis won from Detroit again on Wednesday, scoring six runs and blanking the visitors. Leonard weakened after pitching great ball for five innings, allowing a single, double and two triples, which, with an error by Ellison, gave St. Louis four runs. A single and two doubles off Allen accounted for the other two runs. Score: St. Louis 6, Detroit 0.

SPEAKER FEATURES IN WIN OVER CHICAGO, 5-4

CLEVELAND, O.—Manager Speaker's great catch of Jackson's drive with two on in the seventh inning allowed Cleveland to make it two straight from Chicago on Wednesday, 5 to 4. The defeat sent Chicago into third place. Kerr was knocked out of the box in the first inning. Wilkinson, who replaced him, was effective, but Cleveland bunched hits with two on in the sixth and scored the tying and winning runs. Jackson's home run in the fifth had put Chicago in the lead. Score: Cleveland 5, Chicago 4.

MILLERS WALLOP CREAM CITY BREWERS, 7 TO 1

MINNEAPOLIS—Dick Wade, youthful slinger of the Miller aggregation, again put the game between Milwaukee and the local club here on Tuesday in the first inning Wednesday afternoon when he smashed a homer over the right field fence, with Bondeau scoring ahead of him. The final count was favoring the Millers, 7 to 1. With clothes selling at 60 to 100 dollars a garment, most men are amazed that good made-to-measure clothes are not "out of sight."

But it is not so surprising as it first seems, when you stop to consider.

In the first place you pay us but one small profit: there is no interest involved on a huge stock of merchandise. Take for instance the retailer who sells you. He must sell on wide margins—for he is selling a "seasonable" article. That is, the end of the season mean the end of the sale. He must make a wide margin on what he sells to protect himself on what is left over at the end of the season.

There is no sounder way of saving money than to have your clothes made-to-measure.

SIMPLE SIMON GETS LESSON IN COST OF OFFICE FURNISHING

INQUISITIVE REPORTER LEARNS THAT COST OF EQUIPMENT HAS SOARED 50 PER CENT

"How," said Simple Simon, as he reached for an apple, "do they do it?" Mother Hubbard, busily engaged in turning her head to one side as if to say "do what?" Not that the movement was necessary. Simon, inspired as he was after a taste of the forbidden fruit, had already begun to dramatize his latest inspiration.

"Furnishing an office is an inviting financial ruin," he quoted. "Old time it was. But the Kaiser have told from their native haunts forever gone, unless the gods intervene." Simon took another bite out of the apple.

"You've been with that Post-Crescent reporter again," guessed Mother Hubbard. "Haven't you seen that fellow enough to know he's no good? Trying to make a traveling cyclopede out of you?"

"Well," said Simon, rising to his own defense, and that of his partner in crime, "I guess that don't hurt nobody to know that. We just took an undertaker, the reporter says. 'We're a couple dead ones, let's go in.' And we did, and the reporter looks all around and says, 'Would that I too could leave this mortal sphere, and go where pestilence, famine and city editors are only myths, and stories of office furnishing are not.'"

"Well, after we got thru there, we went around putting down notes, but what for I don't know, cause even an angel would swear if he had to read them. He said there is something more important in this story and that is the stenographer. But, he says 'I have found a good way to get rid of the stenographer in this story, and that is to have the man who is furnishing the office marry her, and then what she costs him outside the office don't make no difference to us.'"

"So then the reporter pulled out his notes and he said, 'Simon, we have reached the parting of the ways, but before you go I am going to make a report of our trip and you can tell me what you think of it.'"

"This," he said, "will be the lead. 'Even if you marry the stenographer you engaged and make your business visitors sit on the floor, it will cost you $100 to furnish your new office. That is only fifty per cent increase in two years, but then what's a little thing like fifty per cent in two years, especially since one of them is Leap year and you sneak in an extra day? That ought to get 'em, don't you think?' he asks me. 'Then we'll follow it up with this,' he says.

"Chairs, rugs, desk, typewriters, paper and every other requisite of a properly furnished and equipped office have jumped in price, without a single exception. Even that little bottle of ink costs more."

"And now Simon," he says, "I'll give you the figures, which will knock them to their chairs so hard it will cost another $150 for a pillow. Like this I'll say it.

Today	2 years ago
Office chair	$16.20 $10.14
Company chair	$4.55 $2.50
Desk	$15.00 $8.25
Rug	$65.70 $45.50
Typist chair	$12.00 $8.50
Typewriter	$100.00 $110.00
Ink	$1.40 $1.75

"And now," he says, "the story is over."

"Why didn't you get here sooner?" asked Mother Hubbard.

"I tried to," answered Simon, "but that reporter stayed too long in the store where the ink was. When the man asked what he was doing around there he says, 'I always look close, you never can tell by the label what's in a quart bottle nowadays.'"

POLITICIANS SEARCHING FOR CAMPAIGN SLOGANS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—A dearth of "catchy" campaign slogans for presidential candidates has stumped republicans and democrats and today the country was combed for "naughty" phrases and pictures which could be reproduced for campaign buttons.

Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, leads with his "Tin for Hiram" coat button.

Major General Wood and Governor Lowden both have buttons on which their pictures are printed. They carry no slogans.

Herbert Hoover headquarters was concentrating today on a campaign button.

That there will be a great cry for economy from the public is anticipated by the Hooverites and they are looking around for something that will make Hoover's stand symbolic.

JAPAN ORDERS RUSS TO LEAVE SIBERIA

By United Press Leased Wire
Tokyo.—Drastic regulations compelling all armed Russians in Siberian territory occupied by Japanese troops to withdraw from those areas have been submitted to the Russian provisional government, according to the war office communique issued today.

All Russian warships, arms, munitions and barracks must be turned over to Japanese troops, temporarily, the ultimatum said.

Communications must be promptly restored.

The troop withdrawal order allows only a small number of Russian police to remain within thirty kilometers of all places where Japanese troops are stationed, the communique said.

The demand also includes withdrawal of armed Russians from certain strategic points on the Trans-Siberian Railroad.

SUGAR RATIONING IS URGED IN CHICAGO

ONE POUND OF SUGAR A WEEK TO EACH HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTED AS CONSERVATION MEASURE

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—A new plan for curbing speculation in sugar is now being written by department of justice attorneys and several members of congress and will be submitted within a few days, it was learned today.

Such a measure is being planned by Representative Howard, Oklahoma, to be presented as soon as the results of the department of justice conference with sugar refiners becomes known.

Chicago—One pound of sugar a week to each household until the present critical sugar shortage is relieved, was advocated here today by wholesale grocers.

According to sugar buyers, unless some such voluntary step is taken, the appointment of a sugar administrator to regulate price and distribution may become necessary.

The present sugar situation was likened to a famine.

"There isn't enough sugar to go around and something must be done to prevent disappearance of sugar altogether," said B. L. Thomas, buyer for a large wholesale grocer here.

Retailers here are limited to fifty and hundred pound purchases and urged to apportion the sugar in one pound allotments to regular customers.

"The situation is a natural one," said one wholesaler.

"The crop production was over-estimated and there has been an enormous increase in consumption."

Sugar prices in Chicago today went as high as 32 cents a pound retail. Wholesalers were setting around 25 cents. Sugar speculators with carloads on hand were asking wholesalers 32 cents a pound.

CABINET MEMBER GIVEN $1,000,000 IN STOCK

By United Press Leased Wire
Atlanta, Ga.—Testimony that the former law firm of Bainbridge Colby, now secretary of state, had received $1,000,000 worth of stock certificates from the Cocoa Cola company in 1917, was offered on Tuesday in the hearing of testimony to be used in the injunction suit of the Cocoa Cola Bottling company against the Cocoa Cola company of Delaware.

Officials of the company later gave out a statement regarding payment of this sum by the company. They denied that it was a fee for Secretary Colby's firm. They said that firm had headed a syndicate that had planned to purchase the Cocoa Cola company in 1917, but that the deal fell through when one of the chief stockholders, a member of the Candler family, declined to sell.

Colby and Brown, they explained, then put in a claim for damages for an alleged breach of contract and received the $1,000,000 worth of stock certificates in settlement of the claim.

CHICAGO BUS LINES ARE FASTER THAN STREET CARS

Three-Year Test Shows Their Practicability in Cities With Large Populations—Ten Cent Fare is Charged With Success

(By Edward M. Thierry)
(Special to Post-Crescent)

Chicago.—A three-year test of the motor bus in Chicago has brought these conclusions:

A bus line is practicable in any city over 50,000.

Good asphalt streets are necessary, though busses do not increase the cost of road upkeep.

Cost of a bus line is about the same as a street car line—and it gives better and faster service.

Chicago has one bus line, from the downtown "loop" out Michigan-blvd. and Sherman-st. 12 miles round trip. Another line is to be started through the South Side.

Profit $40,188

Officials of the Chicago Motor Bus Co. say the bus line in 1919 earned a profit of $40,188; and they look for a 1920 profit of $70,000.

The company has 50 motor busses. Only 36 have been in operation through the winter, but all will soon be in use.

A 10-cent fare is charged, competing with the 8-cent elevated fare and the 6-cent fare of the surface line.

A new type of bus, double-decked with enclosed top, is being put into service. It has 60 seats. Tests show that this bus earns 30 per cent more revenue than the old open-top type because all the seats are available in all kinds of weather. The new type bus can be built for $10,000 or less.

Busses are run on a three-minute headway in rush hours and a five-minute headway the rest of the day. Schedules cannot be cut more than that, said an official of the company, or people just being educated to the use of busses will complain at long waits on the curb.

More than 1,000,000,000 tons of goods were hauled by motor trucks in the United States last year.

Skin Blemishes

How to get rid of them

Skin specialists are tracing fewer and fewer troubles to the blood. They say more often, skin blemishes can be traced to the bacteria and parasites that are carried into the pores of the skin with dust, soot and grime. To clear your skin of blemishes caused by this insidious and persistent enemy, use regularly the following special treatment.

Just before retiring, wash in your usual way with warm water and Woodbury's Facial Soap; then dry your face. Now dip the tips of your fingers in warm water and rub them on the cake of Woodbury's until they are covered with a heavy cream-like lather. Cover each blemish with a thick coat of this soap cream and leave it on for ten minutes. Rinse very carefully with clear, hot water; then with cold.

In addition to this special treatment, use Woodbury's regularly in your daily toilet. This will make your skin firm and active. It will help the new skin to resist the frequent cause of blemishes. Before long your complexion will take on a new clearness and freshness.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.
